VERTICAL ALIGNMENT

JAF Bernini (2012)

The default figures are somewhat shorter than the uppercase, making them look more harmonious in text.

JAF BERNINI (2012)

The case feature (all-caps) gives consistent alignment and adjusted punctuation.

JAF Bernini (2012)

Apply the case feature to acronyms to make them visually less obtrusive.

JAF BERNINI (2012)

Comes with true small caps.

JAF BERNINI (2012)

In all small caps mode, punctuation and figures are aligned.

p_i = p_{i-1} + k^{1.5}

Superscript and subscript characters are carefully positioned and proportioned.

JAF Bernini Sans was designed to speak with a clear and definite voice but without commenting on the text. In situations when the content is heterogeneous or unknown – such as in news websites or papers – the parametric extremes such as compressed or extrabold can give headlines a strong visual presence without stylistically interfering with the articles or images.
